European Humanities University,
European University Foundation.

Project will focus on creating an online platform providing a course catalogue for international students presented in an attractive and friendly way.

Access to the course methodology, multimedia presentations or profile of the lecturer will provide a more accurate insight into the topic explored.

Students will be offered the chance to make an informed and more adequate choice of host university based on solid academic grounds.

Students will be able to check the online courses offered by various Higher Education Institutions before completing their learning agreement.

The project strives to promote the perception of mobility as an educational experience and build the grounds for providing the students with the resources required to choose the courses that will impact his/her academic performance.
